

Once supporters have donated, act quickly with a thank you note that confirms the payment.

You can follow up later with a personal thank you note to build stronger connections with donors. Sending holiday cards can be a great way to do this during the fundraising season.